

MIRADA NATURAL · A PROGRAMME OF LYRA WILDLIFE

Mirada Natural Partner Agreement

Images of nature for those who protect it.

At Lyra Wildlife, we believe that seeing is the first step towards caring. That is why we created Mirada Natural. We organise expeditions to photograph species and habitats in Argentina, South America and other regions of the world, focusing on what needs to be seen in order to be protected. Every image we bring back is added to the Nature Image Bank, which we make available, at no cost, to organisations that educate, research and work for conservation.

This agreement sets out the conditions for using the bank.

At a glance

This section summarises the key points of the agreement.

Allowed

- Using the images to educate, raise awareness, inform and raise the Partner's own funds: social media, web, reports, exhibitions, press and presentations.
- Cropping them, resizing them without distortion and adding text or logos.
- Giving them to a designer or agency to produce a piece for the Partner.
- Requesting the high-resolution version of an image for printing.

Not allowed

- Selling them or using them in products for sale.
- Advertising companies or brands.
- Changing what they show or their aesthetics: colours, light, filters, distortion or mirroring.
- Passing them on to another organisation or company.
- Using them to train artificial intelligence, in electoral campaigns or in connection with animal captivity.

In return

- Credit with every use.
- Reporting once a year, through a simple form, how the downloaded images were used.
- Stopping using an image when Lyra Wildlife asks.

Clauses

1. What the Partner receives. Lyra Wildlife gives the Partner access, at no cost, to its image bank and allows it to use the images it downloads or receives (“the Material”), on a non-exclusive basis and worldwide, under this agreement. The bank offers each image in a web version, 2048 pixels on its longest side. If the Partner needs to print an image, it may request the high-resolution version at no cost, and Lyra Wildlife will send it within 5 business days. The Partner declares that it is a non-profit organisation, an educational or scientific institution, or a protected area or public conservation body, and that the information it provided when joining is accurate.

2. Permitted uses. Only for the Partner’s non-profit activities: education, awareness-raising, communication, reports, press, presentations and its own fundraising campaigns. The Partner may crop the Material, resize it without distortion and overlay text, logos or graphics. It may commission such pieces from a designer or agency, which will use the Material only for that work.

3. What is not allowed. The Partner may not:

- a) sell the Material or use it in products for sale;
- b) use it in advertising for companies or brands, or in pieces whose main purpose is to promote a sponsor;
- c) alter what it shows or its aesthetics: photomontages, adding or removing elements, recreations made with artificial intelligence, changes to colour, light or contrast, filters, distortion or mirroring;
- d) use it to train artificial intelligence systems;
- e) pass it on, lend it or license it to third parties;
- f) use it in electoral or partisan campaigns, in contexts contrary to conservation, or in connection with the captivity of animals of any species;
- g) register it as a trademark or include it in a logo.

4. Credit. Every use carries the credit “Photo: [photographer’s first and last name] – Lyra Wildlife”, clearly visible and in type no smaller than the accompanying text. If the format does not allow it, the credit goes in the text of the post. On social media, the Partner tags Lyra Wildlife where the platform allows it (on Instagram, @lyra.wildlife). The credit and licence data embedded in the files must not be removed.

5. Use report. Once a year, the Partner completes a short form: which images it used, where, and roughly how many people they reached. Lyra Wildlife may use this information to show the reach of the programme.

6. Name and logo. The Partner authorises Lyra Wildlife to display its name and logo on lyrawildlife.org, in its reports and presentations, and in other relevant settings such as talks or events, to identify it as a partner. The Partner may present itself as a “Lyra Wildlife Partner”. Neither party thereby endorses any other activity of the other.

7. What Lyra Wildlife does. Lyra Wildlife keeps the bank available and responds to custom requests according to the rules published on its website. At the Partner’s request, it issues a statement of the value of the Material received, so that the Partner can declare it as an in-kind contribution.

8. Withdrawal of images. If Lyra Wildlife so requests, the Partner stops using the image concerned and removes it from its websites and social media within 10 business days. Lyra Wildlife does not need to give reasons. Printed material may remain in circulation.

9. Term and termination. This agreement lasts two years from signature and renews automatically for equal periods. Either party may terminate it with 30 days’ notice by email. If the Partner fails to comply, Lyra Wildlife will notify it; if the breach is not remedied within 15 days, Lyra Wildlife may suspend its access or terminate the agreement. On termination, the Partner makes no new pieces with the Material. Material already published or printed may remain in circulation, except anything that breaches this agreement, which must be withdrawn.

10. Liability. Lyra Wildlife warrants that it has the right to grant this permission. Each party is responsible for its own use of the Material.

11. Personal data. Lyra Wildlife uses the Partner’s contact details only to administer this agreement.

12. Disputes and governing law. The parties will try to resolve any dispute in good faith. If they cannot, Argentine law applies and the ordinary courts of the Autonomous City of Buenos Aires have jurisdiction. Valid communications are those sent to the email addresses given below. This English version is a translation of the Spanish original; in case of any discrepancy, the Spanish version prevails.

Signatures

The Partner’s legal representative signs this agreement as a PDF and sends it from an institutional email address of the organisation to contacto@lyrawildlife.org. Lyra Wildlife signs it and returns a copy.
